

Drop to Playlist v1.1

AppleScript for iTunes

Find more free AppleScripts and info on writing your own at Doug's AppleScripts for iTunes.

This AppleScript droplet will add files dropped on it to your iTunes library and copy them to a specific iTunes user playlist set in the droplet's preferences. The preference setting is accessed by double-clicking the droplet, and can be changed when required.

This script is Donationware. If you use it and like it please consider making a donation to support my AppleScripting efforts. Click here for more info.

Installation:

To manually install: This AppleScript is a droplet which is activated by drag-and-dropping files to its icon. Ideally, therefore, it should be located in any convenient place where files can be dragged to it in the Finder. It can also be very handy when added to the Finder's toolbar or sidebar so it can be accessed from any Finder window.

It should not be run from iTunes' Script menu!

Be sure to also save this Read Me document in a safe and convenient place.

How to use:

Before using for the first time: Double-click Drop to Playlist's icon. A preferences window listing your current iTunes playlists will be displayed. Select a playlist from the list and click the "Done" button.

Thereafter, any files dragged to Drop to Playlist's icon will be added to the playlist you selected.

To change the designated playlist later, just double-click the icon to access the preferences and choose another playlist.
