This script performs a Google image search on the selected track's album and artist name with the hope of finding the according album artwork. Results are displayed in your default web browser.

For macOS 10.12 and later only.

This script is Donationware. If you use it and like it please consider making a donation to support my AppleScripting efforts. Click here for more info.

Installation:

Put AppleScripts in your iTunes "Scripts" folder. This is located at [user name] / Library / iTunes / Scripts /.

The user Library directory is hidden by default. To make it visible, hold down the Option key on your keyboard and select Go > Library from the Finder.

If the [user name] / Library / folder does not contain the "iTunes" or "Scripts" folders then then create them and put the script(s) in the "Scripts" folder. AppleScripts will then appear in iTunes' Script menu, and can be activated by selecting by name and clicking. Be sure to also save this Read Me document in a safe and convenient place.

See the online Download FAQ for more info and video on downloading and installing AppleScripts.

How to use:

Select a track in iTunes and run the script. If no track is selected and iTunes is playing, information from the playing track will be used. In either case, the Artist and Album tags as the basis for a Google image search in your default web browser.

In the choose panel that appears you can select what image sizes should appear in the results. These are the four sizes Google uses: Large, Medium, Small and Icon.

In case you didn't know, your keyboard's arrow keys can engage the choose box and navigate the selection up and down the list; the Return key is a shortcut for the default "OK" button; the escape key is the shortcut for the "Any Size" button.
