

Google Lyric Search v1.2

AppleScript for iTunes

Find more free AppleScripts and info on writing your own at Doug's AppleScripts for iTunes.

Uses the name and artist of the current or selected track as the basis for a search for lyric sites with Google.

This script is Donationware. If you use it and like it please consider making a donation to support my AppleScripting efforts. Click here for more info.

Installation:

If you installed the files from the downloaded disk image by dragging them to the "Installer", then the AppleScript and this Read Me document have already been installed in your [user name] > Library > iTunes > Scripts folder. The script will appear in iTunes' Script menu, where you can activate it by clicking on its name.

To manually install, if necessary: Put AppleScripts in your iTunes Scripts folder. This is located in [user name] > Library > iTunes. If there is no folder named "Scripts" there, create one and put the script(s) in it. AppleScripts will then appear in iTunes' Script menu, and can be activated by selecting by name and clicking. Be sure to also save this Read Me document in a safe and convenient place.

(You can also install this script in your system Scripts folder in [username] > Library > Scripts, and it will appear in your system-wide Scripts Menu. In this way, iTunes needn't be the "frontmost" application in order for you to access the script.)

How to use:

When a track is playing, or if you have selected a single track, run the script. It will create a Google search string based on the name and artist of the playing or selected track, and initiate the search using Safari.

- If you don't have Safari, your designated default browser will be used.
- Note that the script's filename begins with an underscore "_". This is so it will appear at the top (or near the top) of the Scripts Menu. You can remove it, if you like.
